Flue Gas Recovery Devices

What are they?

Flue gas recovery devices are typically fitted in conjunction with gas-fired condensing boilers.

How do they work?

Some of the heat generated by your boiler inevitably escapes through the flue. Flue gas recovery devices recover some of this lost heat and re-use it to help heat the hot water supply.

Benefits

Makes your heating system more efficient and saves money on your energy bills.

What are the potential savings?

According to the Energy Saving Trust, the potential savings of energy used to heat your hot water could be:

---

> 17%

---

What are the typical costs?

If you were to have this measure installed without Green Deal, this would typically cost you upfront:

---

> £650 - £1,200

Flue Gas Recovery Devices

How can I benefit from Green Deal?

By taking advantage of the Green Deal, you can receive finance to have these energy-saving improvements installed in your home at no full upfront cost. The savings you make will always be greater than the cost of repayments on the measures installed.

Will it be suitable for my home?

This will be suitable if your existing gas flue does not already contain a recovery device. Your NICEIC Green Deal Advisor will provide you with impartial advice on the measures most suitable for your home.

Where and how is it installed?

Flue gas recovery devices are typically installed above your condensing boiler by cutting out a section of the flue pipe and installing the device within it.

What do I need to do next?

Step 1

Get an energy assessment report completed on your home by an NICEIC Green Deal Advisor.

Step 2

Present your report to a Green Deal Provider who will assess whether to approve the finance on the measures you wish to install and coordinate your Green Deal plan.

Step 3

If approved, the Green Deal Provider can arrange for the installation to be carried out by an NICEIC Green Deal Installer.

Step 4

Once installed, your Green Deal payments will be included as instalments in your energy bill. This will be arranged for you by your Green Deal Provider and your energy supplier.
